GRRS is privately owned and management reserves the right to refuse entry and service to anyone. GRRS will not be responsible for accidents, injuries, or loss of guests' property.

Guests are responsible for anything brought to the island, lost along the way, or left at the station. Expensive/important belongings accidentally left at the station can be mailed back to you at your expense (N.B. Often mailing small inexpensive objects left on the island is more costly than the item itself).

Guests should carry their own property, health, travel and liability insurance where appropriate. All damage or loss of Station equipment caused by guests, will be charged for at local cost of replacement plus 10%.
